

Capital
Chemist

Celebrating

We heard from Sandra Ferrington, Managing Partner at Capital Chemist Kingston. Sandra joined the Capital Chemist group over 10 years ago because she was attracted to the commitment of the foundation partners to caring for and supporting the local community. She has developed a strong connection with the local Kingston community and values the small ways that she can help people in their daily lives. This has included a deep connection with Connie Johnston and the “Love Your Sister Foundation”, Soldier On, Cancer Council Relay for Life and Alzheimers ACT.

“We can make a difference because of our ongoing relationships with our customers. We have the opportunity to always build new relationships. Our staff has a long-term commitment to the business and to the community as well. We are always here to listen.”

Sandra has enormous depth of experience in pharmacy, including working in retail, hospitals and at Sydney University. Her pharmaceutical knowledge is impressive and her insight into healthcare solutions makes her a great asset to the Kingston community. Sandra also shares her expertise and knowledge with her staff, working rigorously to train and upskill an enthusiastic and dedicated team.

As a leader with the Capital Chemist group, Sandra is passionate about maintaining and enhancing a strong group network. This involves acknowledging the strengths and contributions of each of the Capital Chemist pharmacies and the role they each play in their communities.

“The Capital Chemist group understands the value that each staff member brings to their community and the difference they make in the lives of their customers. This is the most important element of being involved in the health care industry.”

The recent move of the pharmacy to the new Kingston location in Green Square allowed Sandra and her team to install state of the art technology with a Rowa automated dispensing robot. This new technology, additional consult rooms and easy access to pharmacists enables us to provide cutting edge services to our community.
